

Payment Coupon

This is your Payment Coupon. You may use this coupon to pay your support if your employer is not withholding support payments or if you are unemployed, or to pay towards past-due support.

- Do not give this coupon to your employer. Employers receive special coupons for withholding support.
- Do not use this coupon to pay your R&D (Receipt and Disbursement) fees. Use the R&D Fee Coupon to pay your yearly R&D fee and overdue R&D fees from prior years.
- Do not use this coupon to pay any liens. Contact your child support agency for assistance.

Where do my extra payments go? All payments received during the month will be applied in the following order:

- First: To pay all court-ordered current support or alimony due in that month on all your court orders.
- Second: To pay any other court-ordered periodic payments on past-due amounts (for example, a court order for $50/month on past-due support).
- Third: To pay balances on past-due support or alimony amounts.
- Finally: To pay interest and fees.
